

DAILY LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XV.

THE LOUISVILLE
DAILY DEMOCRAT,
THE DOLLAR DEMOCRAT
—AND—
WEEKLY DEMOCRAT

DAILY DEMOCRAT $4.00
DOLLAR DEMOCRAT (to the Country) 5.00
THE DOLLAR DEMOCRAT 1.00
THE WEEKLY DEMOCRAT 2.00

The several issues of the DEMOCRAT are edited and published by JOHN H. HARNEY and WM. E. HUGHES; employ a corps of Assistants, Reporters, and Correspondents; and it shall be the earnest endeavor of the proprietors to render the paper acceptable to all classes of readers, by making its columns the medium of every description of news—local, general, and miscellaneous—together with everything of interest in all the departments of trade or business.

The DEMOCRAT was commenced, under the auspices of the Democracy of Louisville, in July, 1844, and it has earnestly and consistently advocated the great truths of that party through its entire history—compromising nothing and yielding nothing to any of the numerous factions that have within that period presented themselves against it. The WEEKLY DEMOCRAT attained a circulation in 1856 never before equaled in the Democratic party south of the Ohio river, west of the Mountains; and our DAILY finds its way through the various marts to almost every point within the reach of daily communication with our city. We intend more than ever to make it acceptable, not only to the friends of "Popular Sovereignty" and "Equal Rights," but to every interest and every class of readers. Its correspondence is a decided feature, and furnishes a large amount of news and other important matter which otherwise we could not obtain. Every question, political or otherwise, of general interest, is thoroughly discussed in our Editorial Columns, and nothing of moment shall escape our readers. Beside the Paper will, at all times, embrace a full variety of "READING FOR THE MILLION," consisting of Poetry, original and selected Sketches, Miscellany, and a FULL VARIETY designed to meet every taste.

The Daily Democrat

will contain an epitome of all that is going on in the city and country, of local or general importance. It will furnish a reliable daily summary, gleaned from the marts gathered from the city, and received by telegraph from the leading points. It gives daily statements of the market in leading articles, and once every week furnishes a careful and complete review of the market.

It will also furnish in its business columns the advertisements of the most energetic merchants, manufacturers, and tradesmen of Louisville, together with such notices as we shall from time to time make of them. In every essential we intend to adapt the DAILY DEMOCRAT to the wants of the city and its inhabitants. Its business columns shall give a correct impression of the general character of trade in Louisville, and we shall at all times keep our readers thoroughly posted in the events of the commercial world.

The Dollar Democrat

is made up from a selection of matter, and transferred to its pages from the columns of our DAILY. It is published every Saturday, at one dollar per copy, always in advance. Cuts of fifty subscribers, to one address, EIGHTY CENTS each.

The Louisville Weekly Democrat is the largest and most complete paper in the Democratic party in the West. In its ample columns we design to keep our readers thoroughly informed in all matters of agricultural and mechanical interest, the commerce of the country, and a full variety of miscellaneous reading for the heterogeneous public. In all respects it shall be to its readers a welcome visitor and useful companion. To Club it is sent as follows:

For 1 copy—year, in advance $2.00
For 10 do. do. do 10.00
For 20 do. do. do 20.00
For 30 do. do. do 30.00

A weekly copy of the Weekly Democrat will be sent to you, post-free, where there are ten subscribers, at $2.00 in advance.

It is needless for us to say that the "DEMOCRAT" will continue in politics as heretofore—Democratic. Since the issue of its first number it has continued to do battle against the combined powers of the opposition—under the lead of whatever party it presented itself. It will always maintain the doctrine of State's Rights and Popular Sovereignty as essential features of our free institutions; and, as faithful sentinels, we shall warn our friends of the approach of the enemy under whatever flag it is marshalled for the contest.

The great political battle of 1860 will bring together in solid column the friends of the South, of the Union, and of Equal Rights—the advocates of POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY against the conglomerate mass of Abolitionists and Disunionists in the North, who are preaching negro equality, and opposing the extension of slave territory and the admission of slave States.

Let our friends throughout the South and the Union come to our support, and aid us in extending the circulation, until the Democratic shall penetrate to every household where the liberties of the people are respected, and the rights of Popular Sovereignty maintained.

To BUSINESS MEN Generally.

Those who have established themselves successfully in business should advertise to retain that position.

Those who are but commencing business should advertise to successfully establish them-selves.

Discreet and judicious advertising is the very life of business. Those who neglect to avail themselves of its advantages injure themselves in trade, and consequently bestow the reward on others who advertise.

ask others to accept these at our hands. This is a very free country, and we intend to think and say what we please about the policy of the administration; and we grant to every Democrat the same privilege. Our political faith is not in the keeping of the President or his advisers, or in that of members of Congress. They are rather servants than masters, and should be taught, once in a while, to know their places.

Governor Denver.

It is to be much regretted that the late Governor of Kansas has resigned his place. He has given general satisfaction in that turbulent territory. No act of his has been seriously assailed by any party. He has observed a wise and discreet course, such as became an executive officer. It is a place hard to fill, if we may judge from the many failures that have occurred. He was, perhaps, more fortunate than others, in the time of his appointment; but he has wisely confined himself to his executive duties, doing strict justice to all parties; and thereby has won laurels in his brief administration. We don't know why he resigned. Perhaps he didn't wish to risk the credit, won by remaining longer in office.

A WELL-TIM'D TRIBUTE.

The following beautiful verses, from the polished, and always successful pen of the versatile John Brougham, Esq., will awake a response in every patriotic bosom. Mr. Brougham has always been a devoted friend of the distinguished Senator from Illinois, and it would be strange, indeed, if, after such a triumph as that achieved by Judge Douglas, the graceful and elegant nose of Brougham did not offer a garland to deck the brow of the champion of popular sovereignty:

A DOUGLAS TO THE FRAN...

When Xan sail'd,
With Island and blade,
Or, like a lion,
And gave the land
To France and to France;
To France and to France;
To France and to France;
From America and from France;
Stand to it and bid!

A Douglas to the Fran!

OH! NEVER was

Such a noble cause;

Like a lion, and bold;

Or, like a lion,

To France and to France;
